

Sarah Cornally

Evolving Leaders • Transforming Organisations

Invitation

Join Sarah for a full day workshop where you will experience how System Dynamics works first hand, and discover its potency.

Complex scenarios demand clear thinking and insightful action, which is inherently difficult. This workshop will offer leaders the opportunity to learn and deepen their awareness of how system dynamics is a powerful approach to understanding and resolving workplace challenges. System dynamics provides multiple perspectives. It enables leaders to zoom in and zoom out to see both the whole picture and the detail; it illuminates the relationship between various elements at work, and it highlights the impacts of any changes on the complex web of relationships.

'An opportunity to apply a new lens to discern wise choices in the face of complexity & uncertainty'

Whether you come to examine a complex scenario, test what impact various strategies will have or discover any hidden dynamics that are critical you will learn, and leave with insights and practices for immediate use.

Whether you come to examine a complex scenario, test what impact various strategies will have, or discover any hidden critical dynamics, you will leave with insights and practices for immediate use.

For senior leaders: enhance your insight into current challenges, and learn to better navigate their impact and future significance to organisational performance.

For functional divisions and units: gain systemic awareness and learn how to enhance collaboration and coherence.

For HR executives: study the systemic principles to better support successful organisational functioning.

For organisational consultants and coaches: gain an understanding of key systemic principles that provide powerful perspectives for diagnosis and design of developmental initiatives.

Full Day Sydney Session
Friday 24 November 2017

Arrive 8.45am for 9.00am start to 5.00pm

National Trust Centre, Upper Fort Street, Millers Point in the Annie Wyatt Room. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

Sarah will include foundational concepts and basic processes which you will find applicable in your work context and we will address at least 2 client issues. She will include recent insights, new discoveries and observations regarding systemic constellations gained during her training internationally.

*This workshop is eligible as the pre-requisite for the Systems Dynamics & Organisational Constellations Training commencing in October 2017

Book early to ensure your seat within the Group - places are limited.

The Workshop will be run at an introductory price of $495 (inc gst)

You are welcome to bring your colleagues along for the workshop, please let them know.

To purchase your ticket via Eventbrite please click below (*conditions apply):

Friday 24 November 2017

Password: SDO

The link will take you through to Eventbrite and payment can be made via Paypal (which accepts Amex, Visa and MasterCard) or direct with Visa or Mastercard.

The session will be facilitated by Sarah Cornally

Sarah Cornally has been studying systems dynamics and organisational constellation work in Europe for the past six years and has found this a particularly powerful way to quickly access solutions and useful outcomes in the face of complex and challenging dilemmas. Sarah's work focuses on enabling leaders to collectively create successful businesses and organisations where people thrive whilst achieving the organisation's purpose. She has a special interest in developing greater capacity to respond insightfully and effectively to uncertainty and complexity by exploring adaptive responses.